looking at the plan i understand that this does slightly change the dynamics of netherthong, however i understand why the new boundary would naturally go down the road as this makes a definitive boundary and it also makes the projected electorate between both holme valley south and holme valley north more within targets and i would hope cllrs can work together across both wards to help these electorate with issues, leaving me with no objections to this, splitting the ward for the parish council i also have no objections to, as i believe it makes the are more accountable and will also improve the electoral representation in brockholes by moving one parish councillor from honley to there
