Related subject: Heckmondwike

Heckmondwike is overlooked compared to Huddersfield and Dewsbury.

It needs to be reunited with Birstall and Cleckheaton.

So I agree with the boundary change.

I have lived here since 2000 but I am seriously considering leaving Kirklees due to year on year excessive rises in Council tax.

We are in band E and pay substantially more than comparable areas around England.

Heckmondwike needs inspiration and investment. It has been neglected and allowed to become overrun with low quality shops and fast food outlets. It was once an affluent market town and needs to be restored to its former glory.
