I do not agree with the decision to appointment more councillors. Many of the roles and responsibilities named in the proposal to increase are self appointed and some do not exist. Given the very limited resources and reducing council budget this is where the focus of Coventry should be. I believe there is limited input into the WMCA and where there is this should be shared with other opposition parties and not as is stated just those in power. I thought the WMCA was a by partisan devolved model of local government and not ruled by anyone party's interests.
