It is essential that the wards of Sutton, Higher Sutton, Langley and Lyme Green are warded together. They are governed by a single Parish Council with three councillors to each ward. Most importantly, there are strong community links between the wards. Geographically it may appear that Lyme Green is closely linked to the town of Macclesfield, but this is far being from the case, and any attempt to remove it from the civic parish of Sutton would meet with strong opposition. The residents of Lyme Green consider themselves to be a semi-rural community, not part of a town, and all their activities, organisations and clubs reflect this.
