I think it would be sensible if the area now covered by Nantwich town council (including the new estates of kingsbourne and Malbank waters) was treated as a single ward with 3 councillors. This would exclude Stapeley which is a perpetual complicating factor when borough councillors and town councillors discuss matters at town council meetings. The bulk of Stapeley is rural and its issues do not concur with urban Nantwich at all. Councillors currently representing Nantwich South and Stapeley therefore have a difficult job balancing their commitments in the 2 areas.
