Comment text:

Silkstone common has more in common with penistone than with Dodworth particularly In terms of schools, retail and rurality . Silkstone common is in danger of being sucked into the growin conurbation that is Dodworth - will lose its village identity and the change may have an effect on any financial bidding opportunities . I have yet to see a good reason ( for me at least ) why these changes are being proposed. More erosion of the countryside . To be honest I think the decision has already been taken and this “ consultation” is a tick box exercise .
