Comment text:

Related subject: Burneside Parish Council is made up of two Parishes, Strickland Ketel and Strickland Roger, which are currently part of the Upper Kent Ward.

Due to the Parishes of Strickland Ketel and Strickland Roger making up the Burneside Parish Council area and having parts of settlements (Burneside and Bowston (either side of the river)) in both Parishes it is important that these two Parishes are kept together in any revised warding, it would not be appropriate for them to be split. The two Parishes have close relationships and similarities with other surrounding rural Parishes, it would be appropriate for them to be warded with these e.g. Skelsmergh, Longsleddale, Staveley, Crook, Selside, Kentmere etc. Burneside village is the main settlement within Strickland Ketel and Roger, along with other hamlets, however the Parishes are mainly rural so it would not be appropriate to group Strickland Ketel or Roger with any of the Kendal wards. Although nearby, Burneside and the Parishes of Strickland Ketel and Roger are distinctively separate and different to the Kendal town area. Please also note St Mary's Church in Longsleddale is also in the same Parochial Parish as St Oswald's Church, Burneside.
