Dudley Port and Great Bridge are part of Tipton not Oldbury and the original borders and boundaries should be reinstated. When monitoring crime/ trends/ housing/ schools and transport as well as more importantly the community the links are all part of Tipton. All areas within Sandwell are very different and each town is steeped in its own tradition and history. Tipton has no affinity with Oldbury and vice versa on any level. Which ever way you look at it the need to reinstate the Tipton boundary back to the way it was is both relevant and makes total sense in terms of all aspects of Council decision making to take into account actual 'local needs' of the community
