To whoever is concerned

As a resident on Scott Road for over 20 years, I was so upset about a recent leaflet posted just this week. As a person that is very proud to say that I live in Olton, can not understand why this has to change?? Is this just for political reasons. Deeply offended by the Conservative councillor saying that our road does not reflect Olton and what it was like walking into a different county, again the question is why?? What was meant by this?? Neighbours on our road deeply respect this area and look after their homes, we have a good community spirit, that should be a credit to the Olton ward.

Please could someone properly explain to me the reasons why this is happening and what it all means. Do we have to change our address after all these years? Will it affect our house prices? After reading that leaflet, feel like a 2nd class citizen

Look forward to your response
