The system is broken: a majority of young people would prefer a dictatorship to our "democracy"; barely half of all adults even voted for anyone in July; and participation in local government elections is even worse. It is therefore incumbent on all of us to respond and to try and improve things. For example I believe that it would help, albeit a little, if all boundaries (Parliamentary Constituencies; MKCC wards; and Parish?Town Councils) were co-terminus. This is unfortunately not currently proposed for Whitehouse Parish within the new Stony Stratford Ward. Milton Keynes continues to grow so maybe could the next review look at all the boundaries simultaneously?
