Related subject: Cradley Heath/Old Hill/Blackheath

I have worked in Old Hill for the past 25 years and lived locally all my life.

While looking at the current boundaries around Cradley Heath and Old Hill it has become quite obvious that both towns are actually split or splintered in their ward area lay out. The proposal of making Cradley Heath a ward on its own purely by size alone and current residential demographic would in my eyes make more sense.

The then proposal for Old Hill and Blackheath as a ward purely on its own again a sensible demographic and map view.

The inclusion of the Brickhouse estate in my eyes into Old Hill and Blackheath would give that estate a longed for identity and encompassed into the entirety of Old Hill will add a Town Centre connection it doesn't currently have.
