I have two main views:

1. The people that designed this website should be tried at the Hague for crimes against digital accessibility. It's a disgrace.
2. Why is there such a complete waste of money apportioned to this lesson in futility. Who gives a damn about who organises when the bins get emptied or if the Union Flag flies above the council house. This is a complete distraction of what really matters, such as a lost generation of NEETs. I would rather the MP focus on national issues that impact upon this area, not this tripe.
