I have lived for several years in the Badger Hill area, and I don't feel the existing Hull Road ward well represents the area. It feels like a collection of neighbourhoods with little connection lumped into one. I don't feel a ward that contains half of Tanghall along with Badger Hill is a coherent area.

Hull Road forms a big natural barrier between communities. I rarely go north of Hull Road in my day to day activities, & few people go south from Tanghall.

Badger Hill is much better connected with Heslington village. Lots of the kids here go to Lord Deramore's, and we regularly get leaflets from Heslington church.

I would therefore prefer that Badger Hill be in a ward with Heslington village and the surrounding University.

I also don't understand why most of Fulford isn't in Fulford ward. I would suggest that having lost Heslington, Fulford ward be expanded to include Fishergate ward as it is all Fulford.
